The following notice will be placed in the electronic copy:

Copyright 2010 by the Midwest Instruction and Computing Symposium. Permission to make printed or digital copies of all or part of this material for educational or personal use is granted without fee provided that copies are not made or distributed for profit or commercial advantage and that copies include this notice and the full citation on the first page.

I, _____, hereby assign the copyright of the work entitled:

to the Midwest Instruction and Computing Symposium effective as of the date of this agreement on the understanding that the work has been accepted for presentation at the Midwest Instruction and Computing Symposium and/or publication in the Midwest Instruction and Computing Symposium electronic archives. The Midwest Instruction and Computing Symposium will herein be named MICS.

I understand that:

- This is a condition of publishing the material in the MICS (electronic) conference proceedings
- I should immediately incorporate the MICS copyright notice into all copies of the material I possess
- MICS will maintain the accepted version as the specific version of the published work
- If I embedded an object copyrighted by a third party, permission was received by the third party to include the object with the understanding that the entire work may be included in the proceedings and that the copyright transfer applied only to my work but not to the third party's embedded object
- I will be allowed to keep, distribute and point to electronic copies of the work
- The integrity of the content will be preserved and any reference to the MICS link be given in any on-line material.
